Meet The Next Wave

Olivia Adams. The Saskatoon native recently completed her degree in Piano Performance at Western University and is now completing Masters in Piano Pedagogy and Women's Studies at the University of Ottawa. Along with teaching and performing, she gave a lecture recital in Aveiro, Portugal in 2018.

Adams & Busch. The piano duo/duet (made up of Olivia Adams and Nicholas Busch) formed in 2018 at Western University where they studied under Tina Yanchus, Leslie Kinton, and Angela Park. Both pianists are active and frequent performers in the London area as a duo and as soloists.

Vanessa Bosman. Singing has always played a large roll in Vanessa's life. She has been involved in choirs throughout high school and more recently, the Georgian Bay Children's Choir, O'Sing and the Georgian Bay Concert Choir. She continues to perform at various events and concerts.

Adrian Little. The Port Elgin-based pianist and music educator is known for his versatility and musicality. Along with being a soloist and as collaborator with vocalists, choirs, and instrumentalists, he holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Wilfrid Laurier University in Piano Performance & Music Theory.

Cydney Morris. A grade 11 student enrolled in the Arts & Culture High Skills Major program at Saugeen District, she's a member of various community choirs, studies voice and plays piano and euphonium. She has received many scholarships from local music festivals.

Jeffrey Paik. The Grade 10 student at OSDSS began playing the cello at age 5 and completed Grade 8 practical in 2018 with first class honours and moving on to the Royal Conservatory Orchestral training program. A member of the Georgian Bay Symphony, he has represented Grey County Kiwanis at provincials.

Anna Perrone. The Massie resident is currently preparing to take the ARCT exam in piano performance. Along with being the organist and choir director at St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church, she's also the organist and lead soprano for the Grey Bruce Latin Mass Community.

Emily Weaver. The Owen Sound native recently completed her third year in Queen's University Bachelor of Music Program, was the 2nd chair in the Queen's University Symphony Orchestra and Concert Master and section leader in the Queen's University Wind Ensemble. She's a recipient of the Kingston Symphony Association Scholarship and the Lynne Millsom Award.

Suwan Yu. The Grade 12 student at Kitchener's St. Mary's High School has played flute for seven years and studied under Laurel Swinden at the Beckett School of Music. She performs in the K-W Youth Orchestra and K-W Youth Concert Band. A prize winner of the K-W Chamber Orchestra Concerto Competition, she will represent the K-W Kiwanis Music Festival at provincials.

A Message from Our Artistic Director

When we put out the call for applicants for Next Wave, we had no idea what to expect. To say we're thrilled with the response is an understatement! These young musical voices deserve every opportunity to be heard not just today, but often! Our sincere thanks for coming out and supporting our younger generation of artists - they deserve it!
